

Teaching Scholars Program Scholarly Projects for 2015-2016

Denise Connor, MD, Department of Medicine, VAMC

Graduating Medicine Residents' Perceptions of Diagnostic Reasoning

Denise Davis, MD, Department of Medicine, VAMC

Mentoring Across Racial, Ethnic and Power Differences

Rosalind De Lisser, RN,MS,NP. Department of Community Health Systems

Interprofessional Faculty Needs Assessment for Behavioral Health Teams

Amber Fitzsimmons, PT, MS, DPTSc. Department of Physical Therapy

Evaluating Social Responsibility in Physical Therapy Education

Lynn Flint, MD, Department of Medicine, Geriatrics

Developing an Integrated Geriatrics and Palliative Care Fellowship

Caitlin Hasser, MD, Department of Psychiatry

Interprofessional Faculty Needs Assessment for Behavioral Health Teams

Shruti Kant, MD, Department of Emergency Medicine

Learning Lumbar Punctures: Aha! Moments and Cognitive Processes

Ellen Laves, MD, Department of Pediatrics

Learning Lumbar Punctures: Aha! Moments and Cognitive Processes

Carter Lebares, MD, Department of Surgery

Mindfulness Training for Surgeons: Establishing Feasibility and Efficacy

Chirag Patel, MD, DMD, Department of Oral and Maxillofacial Surgery

Contemporary Orthognathic Surgery Curriculum for OMFS Residents

Jennifer Perkins, DDS, MD, Department of Oral and Maxillofacial Surgery

OMFS Mentorship Program as an Exploration of Career Choice

Atif Qasim, MD, Department of Medicine, Cardiology

Understanding Differences in Expert and Novice Interpretation of Cardiac Ultrasound

Brian Schwartz, MD, Department of Medicine, Infectious Diseases

Assessing Infectious Diseases Physicians as Teachers and Role Models in Early Medical Student Education

Jaekyu Shin, PharmD, Department of Clinical Pharmacy

Incorporating MyDispense, a Computer Program Simulating Community Pharmacy Practice, into Therapeutics II