Describe any publications:

There are in the surgery field from work I did before medical school but published while I was in Medical school. There were as follows: / increased mortality in delayed intubation in initially stable trauma patients, / dialysis dependent chronic renal failure in patients with nephrectomies performed 2/2 to trauma

Two abstracts and one paper. Both from undergraduate research that wrapped up while in medical school.

Who was your most effective career advisor in field matched?
(number of multiple mentions)

Dr. Tom McNalley

Lisa Pascual (2)

What were your most useful career resources?

Cindy Lai- helpful for prelim year advice

If you had to do anything differently in the residency matching process, what would it be?

Don't apply to programs in geographical areas I was sure not to want to go to Go to all of my interviews offered and lobby for my 2nd choice more. I was overconfident in matching at my top choice.

I would not apply to as many out of state preliminary programs. I would do at least one more (two total) away rotations for PM&R.

Is there any other information helpful to UCSF students who will apply to your specialty choice in the future?

Definitely check out the east coast PM&R programs, they have a very different model than most of the west coast programs.

Don't believe what programs tell you. I was given honors by my top choice and got a really strong letter of rec commented on by other programs yet still didn't match there. The attending I was with even told me he would do his best to get me ranked in their top 7.

You do not have to do an away rotation at any institution to get an interview there, so don't stress out. On every interview I went to, there were a good number of people who had not rotated there. I myself only did one away rotation.
